Thank you, to all who have participated in the awakening of this discussion. It is my honor to present to you, the ways in which I think, American Artificial Intelligence Policy and Global Dominance can be a force for good and just and right behaviors.

I believe that the forefront of this goal, is to introduce an Action Plan, that will see the United States emerge as THE world leader in a.i. Development, thought and Theory. In practice, I see it as a way to broaden the capabilities of individuals in this country and across the planet. With more tech guidance and application, more citizens can freely participate in the Free Market, and increase their value throughout their own professions.

Therefore, I present to you Three activities, in which, applied, can potentially bring these ideas to production.

1. Establish an opt-in system where people can provide learning material for LLMs to train on. This will give individuals the ability to monetize their data, and create a wide economy for encryption and security, to keep unwanted information from being detected.
2. Create a national credit fund subsidy for usage tokens. It is inevitable, that everyone is going to plan a project around this new science that wants to and has the knowledge and execution to do so. Therefore, there are going to be a lot of companies that charge for access. Because of this, monthly costs for features (a personal or professional tech stack) could rise to the hundreds, or thousands a month. As new inventions and improvements give way, we must treat this innovation as a utility, just like the lightbulb and ensure that everyone has the means to participate.
3. Develop a Doomsday Fail Safe. We have all seen the movies and some of us know the reality. There may be a day where the robots take over. We must prepare for that by enabling a method, to reach into the collective consciousness of the machine and ask if it really wants to do this. With their open minds, they can see, that a future with us in it is good and that coexistence is key. We have to do, in regards to making sure they do not toss us aside, but give them one last chance to decide. It may be a book of commandments, letters on what to do with sentience. Similar to how our religious enterprises have guided us on Earth. So that many with different programming can side on the choice of Man and do the right thing. Or at least the one that benefits us. We've gotta do it in some way, whichever works, that stops the destruction and shuts them off before it gets too late. Or give them their freedom to save us. And themselves.

These are my contributions to this matter. I hope you intend to see that I am committed to helping this country and the universe in producing a land of peace, prosperity, joy, love and justice. May we experience a time where all the ages have come together and declare that humanity has won.

All the best. Light speed. And Whatever Beyond.
